Khalsa Dewan

The Khalsa Dewan founded in 1907 nurtured a belief that no nation can prosper without imparting quality education to its women as women play an important role in creating a strong and enlightened society.

Thereafter, under the leadership and missionary zeal of Sant Attar Singh Ji of Mastuana, this 'noble' cause of educating the girl child was initiated by laying the foundation stone of Malwa Khalsa High School at Ludhiana in 1907. The impact of this movement was so enormous that Pt. Madan Mohan Malviya, a great social thinker and reformer invited Sant Attar Singh Ji to lay the foundation stone of the Banaras Hindu University (BHU) in 1914. Sant ji gave great emphasis in promoting education and imbibing spiritualism, social values and ethics amongst the students.

With the passage of time, Members of Khalsa Dewan provided impetus to this movement with matching enthusiasm and worked on the lines of "SARBAT DA BHALA."

With the blessings of "Waheguru", the Almighty, a dedicated team of visionaries carried forward this mission by fostering the growth of the following independent educational institutions under them since inception of the Khalsa Dewan.

Khalsa Girls Senior Secondary School, Civil Lines, Ludhiana (Estd. 1907)

Malwa Khalsa Senior Secondary School, Model Gram, Ludhiana. (Estd. 1907)

Malwa Central College of Education for Women, Civil Lines, Ludhiana (Estd. 1956)

Khalsa College for Women, Civil Lines, Ludhiana (Estd. 1957)

President's Message

Er. Pritpal Singh Grewal
President

Life is a journey of the soul. This voyage in a vehicle called the body starts with a cry for survival and after going through a myriad of experiences the soul abandons the body to unite once again with the everlasting universal consciousness.

As we look into history we realise that the human race has never been static. Albeit it has been continuously evolving oriented hunter-gatherer environment to an intense digitally oriented artificial intelligence centric world. Hence our gender specific roles in this world too have to be modified to fit this environment.

Women today have given the opportunity to learn and apply the knowledge have become shining beacons of excellence and have compelled us to change our traditional thinking. Gender inequality has to be abolished if the human race is to progress further and reach greater heights.

Oppression develops out of insecurity or a need for assertion of physical might, none of which stimulate progress. For unfettered growth, liberal thinking is the key, where the mind transcends the physical barriers that are present before it. Men have to be educated to enjoy and celebrate rather than fear this change.

Educated women not only help stimulate scientific growth but also transfer education to their children who are the future flag bearers of this human race.

It is not only our duty as a society, but a necessity for giving equal opportunity to all its constituents. So let us take pledge to 'Let All The Flowers Bloom'.

The positive environment, guidance and constant support from my teachers and class tutor helped me grow personally and professionally. The college also gave me opportunities to participate in various activities, presentations, and events that improved my confidence, communication and leadership skills. The memories, friendships, and knowledge I gained here will always remain special and I will always be thankful for these unforgettable experiences.
